

McHenry Accident Reconstruction 2010 Book Order Form

by Raymond R. McHenry & Brian G. McHenry "The purpose of this book.. is to return the focus of attention to the fundamentals of accident reconstruction and to the status of scientific progress in this field. This book is a collection of useful information related to the theoretical bases of reconstruction calculations" from the Introduction of the book)

As part of our McHenry Seminar 2008, we updated our book (now ~187 pages) entitled McHenry Accident Reconstruction 2010 which contains detailed analysis and hand calculation techniques for all aspects of Accident Reconstruction. The authors of the books are Raymond R. McHenry and Brian G. McHenry. Ray was the principal investigator and original developer of CRASH, SMAC, HVOSM and CAL2D computer programs.

May 2010: The book is currently out of stock. We are planning on updating the book to the 2010 version. All Mchenry Software 2008 attendees will automatically receive the update
